On Thursday night of last week, Mr. W. A. Crawford of near Mulberry, had the misfortune to loose his stable and a large lot of hay by fire. It is supposed the fire originated from tramps sleeping in the stable.

C. T. McFarland, of the TIMES, and wife, who in company with his father and brother, left Butler on June 29th, for Colorado, overland, returned Sunday evening. He is much improved in health and reports his father and brother, whom he left in Colorado Springs, as being like wise.

S. Siggins and S. D. Smith, two of our most substantial farmers, of near Papinville, pulled our latch string Monday, and Mr. Siggins being an old and faithful subscriber laid down the cash for another year, while Mr. Smith had his name enrolled as a new recruit. May their shadows never grow less.

Quite a serious accident happened to little Miss Joan Duke, daughter of C. C. Duke, assistant cashier of the Butler National Bank, Thursday evening while skating at the rink in one of the vacant rooms in the Opera house. She had been enjoying the sport for some time and had stopped to pull off the skates when some means they run out from under her and in the fall she had her right arm broken between the wrist and elbow. A physician was immediately summoned and the arm set and at present she is doing as well as could be expected.

The telegraph announces this morning the death of Judge John M. Krum, one of the most prominent citizens of St. Louis. His face was familiar throughout the state, for he was an ardent, earnest, honest politician, and had served his day and generation in many official capacities. Personally he was a courteous, kindly gentleman, respected by all who knew him.

We dislike the mode some papers have of threatening their delinquent subscribers with the devil, the law and all kinds of hob goblins in order to make them pony up. That which gives us most pleasure is to have them come up and settle without any undue influence being brought to bear upon them. We generally appeal when we get hard up to the wives of the lazy fellow's, and you bet they come tumbling in when the women get after them. Now boys we are needing your delinquent subscriptions, and take warning if you don't come in and pay us we will call on your wife.

Chas. Simmons, Geo. Cobb and W. W. Moore, were arrested Monday by Deputy Constable Tucker, on a state warrant charging them with rocking a house some half mile south of town. The house is occupied by an old gentleman named Bremerman and his wife, and are represented as being quiet peaceable old people. What the object of these young men in rocking this house and disturbing the peace and quiet of these old people at the unreasonable hour of 4 o'clock Sunday morning is known only to themselves. Their action certainly deserves the severest criticism and a heavy fine from his Honor Squire Cannon, before whom they will be tried.

Mother Hubbard of the Republican, threatens us with a new party, called "Sovereign Capacity Regardless of party." What a name, it will surely die a burning. What will the stockholders say when they read it. Well, well, we had a better opinion of old Mother Hubbard. We really had begun to think the old gal was a simon pure died-in-the wool republican. But her independent move so far in advance of the battle is astunner. We will call a meeting of the stockholders and investigate the matter. "The mountain has begun to move."

Rev. L. P. Siceloff, pastor of the M. E. Church South of this city for the past year preached his farewell sermon to his congregation Sunday last. We have no doubt this will be sad news to many as he is truly loved and respected by the entire community, not alone as an expounder of the gospel but as a true citizen, a neighbor and christian gentleman. It is not known whether he will be returned to this station by conference which meets the last of this month or not, but be that as it may, the best wishes of this community will follow him wherever his lot may be cast. We can but say in conclusion that the congregation that secures his services for the coming year will get an earnest and zealous worker, and christian gentleman. The TIMES wishes him and his family health and prosperity wherever they may be anchored.

The members of the M. E. church south desiring in some way to show their love and affection for their pastor, Rev. L. P. Siceloff and to express in some way their gratitude for his untiring energies and faithfulness in trying to build up the church in this city, and Sunday being the day of separation for this conference year, the faithful of the church concluded to give him and his good wife a regular old fashioned surprise. They accordingly armed themselves, with all the necessities of life and proceeded Friday night to his handsome residence about half mile northeast of the city. Notwithstanding it was a total surprise to the good pastor, the entire party were greeted with a hearty welcome, and a glorious good time was had. It was a surprise that will be long remembered by Rev. Siceloff and wife.

The Waggoner Bros., an I Browning, running a large manufactory establishment at New Hampton, Harrison County, Mo., are talking of moving their works to Butler. They manufacture principally the celebrated wrought iron adjustable frame, smoothing and cultivating harrows. This is represented as being one of the very best harrows manufactured in the west and has taken first premiums at the Neosho Falls and St. Joseph fairs, they will exhibit at Kansas city and St. Louis. Mr. Browning of the firm was here last week surveying the field and was greatly pleased with our county. We believe with a very little effort on the part of our people these gentlemen could be induced to come to Butler. Let us extend the right hand and hold out the inducements.

Opera House Friday Sep. 21. 1883. Heywood's Quadruplantheon. Of an entertainment to be given the Waukegan Gazette says: "Thursday evening last Heywood Bros'. New York Variety Combination performed at Phoenix Opera House to an excellent audience, both in number and quality. To say that the performance was excellent would be but to reiterate the verdict of all who witnessed it. Many of the features were simply superb and have never been equaled by anything seen in this city. The ventriloquist of the party is certainly a wonder that it is worth the price of admission to see, while the four clog dancers are artists of the first water. Mr. Murray, the proprietor of the Waukegan House, speaks in the highest terms of the company, and says they more nearly resemble business men than showmen. Our space will not permit a lengthy notice this week, but we will simply inform the Messrs. Heywood that the next time they stop here they may look to see the opera house packed. The show gave first-rate satisfaction.

Layed to Rest.

It is with many regrets we are called upon this week to announce the untimely death of our young friend and neighbor J. H. Eichler, which took place at the residence of his brother G. W. Eichler, on Ohio street Sunday evening at six o'clock. His disease was phneumonia fever, and for three weeks or more he lay suffering with the thread of life gradually giving way thread by thread. Everything in the way of medical attention was given him, but to no avail. The Master had called and the summons must be obeyed. He received every attention from two sisters and a devoted brother who watched his bed side day and night assisted by kind and sympathizing neighbor. Henry was about 30 years of age, and was a quiet, sober, industrious young man, and was respected by all who knew him. His last moments were apparently spent easy, and just as the clock on the stand struck six he closed his mouth and with a slight quiver of the lips his spirit took its flight and crossed over to the other side. After a short funeral service at the house Monday at 2 o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. S. M. Brown of the Baptist church, his remains were conveyed to Oak Hill, cemetery and layed to rest. Peace to his ashes.

Judge E. A. Henry, superintendent of the company's improvements in and near our metropolis has for a week or more had a score or so of men digging holes around the city with a view of developing the coal and determining the best way to get it out on a large scale. He informs us that he finds coal everywhere from three feet to forty-two inches, except in the northeast part of town where it is forty-four-and-a-half inches and most of it has a good roof for drifting.—Walnut Journal.

Mr. John G. Priest, of St. Louis, having recently returned from the east reports the entire public sentiment of the country is in favor of Tilden and Hendricks, the old ticket for 1884. This sentiment is quite healthy in the west as well as in the east, and we believe will continue to grow and widen till it covers the entire Union and forces into life the old ticket of '76." What is the people choice must be the politicians. Mr. Tilden though not a candidate, will accept the nomination and that's enough.
